DEHOCRATIC TICKET. CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

POR SHELBY COUNTY: WM. H. STEPHENS, FOR FLOATERIAL DISTRICT :

HUMPHREY R. BATE,

THE ELECTION OF JUDGES. The election of Judges in this State will be brought before the coming Constitutional Convention. We have tried the experiment of election by the Legislature and of choosing these officers directly by the people. The experiments made are now a part of the history of the government, and will serve as valuable information in determining what is best for the future. The stability of our government certainly depends more upon an honest and capable judiciary than any other one thing-The Bench should be above the passions and prejudices of the hour. A Judge should not permit his judicial ermine to dreggle in the cesspool of party filth. He should be far removed from everything exciting, which might tempt human nature from the path of truth, justice and right. In a word, the Judges should be independent, and then it will not be hard for any one of them to administer the law according to its letter and meaning. The first Constitution State was framed in 1796, and by the ablest men that have lived in this country since its independence. Under that Constitution the Judges, Justices of the Peace and Attorney Generals were elected by the Legislature, and held their offices through-

embarrassments without disposing of svery valuable means the city possesses. The man in whom all these qualifications are united should be selected. H. M. And in those good old days the people went so far as to intrust the County | Lowenstine, of all others thus far spoken Court with the authority of electing the Sheriffs, Coroners, Trustees and Constables, and gave to the courts the power of appointing their own Clerks. But in the course of time the tares of popular election sprang up in the political field, which choked out and destroyed a system that, in itself, had been found to work admirably. The convention of 1834 was called, and the office of Judge was inter-Prescenting Afformer.

Entron Luners: Memphis demands an honest, able and energetic man for Prosecuting Attorney of the Criminal Court. Colonel John F. Kerr possesses these qualities in an eminent degree, and there is an earnest desire of the people and Bar to suppost him for that position. There may be, and Joubtisse are, many good men of the profession well qualified for the place, but none have higher claims upon the people of Memphis, and go one could give more general satisfaction, or perform its duties with fered with only so far as to limit it to a term of years; but with the others above alleded to were elected directly by the popular vote. As time were or, and men became auxious for office, the cry of the demographe was heard throughout the land, clamoring for the election of judges by the people. It was thought impolitic at the time to oppose this move, because no one could be found who would dare ren counter to the wayward opinions of the pupulace. Politicians were looking to their own private advantages, and did not possess the honesty and manliness to tell the people what was to their intercet. Up to 1852 this feeling had grown so strong that each and every party seemed to vie with one another in b'dding for popular favor. So the question was submitted by the Legislature, whether the Judges and Attorney General should be be elected directly by the people, and it received a large majority of votes in its favor. From that time until now the candidates for Judgeship have played the political harlot. The beach has been degraded to a three-legged stool, that may be kicked over by any and every political clique in the country. Judges that were under the old regime, independent and free to execute justice, are now afmid, to perform their duty to the full extent and spirit of the law. Taey must first know that such a course would be in accordance with popular feeling. His Honer will proceed as cantions as a blind horse would in field of pit-falls. The right of appointing Judges should, as was formerly the case, be with the Governor of the State, by and with the adrice and consent of the Senate II this is not adopted into the new Constitution, it would then be well to leave the elaction with the people, and to limit the office to good behavior. Either mode of election, with the addition to the latter, would obviate, to a great extent, the evils arising from our present judicial gaged in transferring their tows below the falls. This is the first run of coal

The Bartlett Court.

Resolved by the Bar of Memphia, That in the event the Legislature refuses to grant the three Circuit Courts asked for in the bill now pending before that body, known as the "Shelby County Court Bill," (which, we think, is really necessary,) we recommend the estab-lishment of a Circuit Court at the town of Bartlett, in Shelby county, to meet the wishes and necessities of the county outside of Momphis; that the same be attached to the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit, and be holden by the Judge of said Circuit; but in the event the Lagislature should grant to us the three Circuit Courts asked for in said bill, we are willing to, and recommend, that the Legislature create for the county a Circuit Court, to be located at the said town of Bertlett, and holden by the Circuit Judges of the Memphis courts, alternating.

In H. M. Loewenstine we have such a man. His indomitable will, untiribe in-dustry and unimpeachable probity, are too well known to need further comment. This is no time for brawling politicians and incapable demagogues—but for true, honest and able men. Let him be nomi-nated and elected, and let retrenchment and reform succeed peculation, greed and wasteful extravagance. Let the finances of the city be restored to a sound and healthful condition, and the city affairs, and the embarrasaments we have drifted into, should require the attention of every voter in the coming election, and more especially in that of the Mayoralty. It is no easy task and duty to be performed by that officer; and the remedy can only be accomplished by selecting a man for that position who stands free from all prejudice, possesses sound financial abilities, and is able to relieve this city of its present and future of, is actually the very man possessing the required abilities. From the time he first settled in our midt, his character for honesty and financial ability stands without reproach; and he would, if elected, become a blessing to this city. It should be the duty of every voter to await on Mr. Loewenstine and prevail upon him to allow his mame used as a candidate for the office of Mayor.

In fact, as reveral of them expressed it, they "suffixed" for his steady, skillful hand to guide the fleet through the perilous brenkers. Owing to his absence, about thirty boats were left above the falls and will have to be taken through the canal, involving heavy additional expense.

The following towboats arrived yesterday: Stella, Simpson Horner, Dick Fulton, Alps, Tom Rees, A. J. Baker, Mary Ann, Wild Cat, Hyena, Star, Hercules, Keystone, Dismoud, Panther, Jas. Henry Ward Beecher made a some-Henry Ward Beecher made a some-what lengthy vindicatory explanation of his perticipation in the Richardson-McFarland marriage, and the funeral ceremony which he attended. The ex-planation was drawn out by the members of his congregation at the weekly lecture last evening. He said, after state-ments similiar to those in his late card, that at the time of marriage, at the Astor House, he did not understand that the House, he did not understand that the the order of the buyer, shall be given by laws of New York declared null and wold a divorce obtained in Indiana. He said if the parties were of a legal age for amined and received, the samples passed marriage, and presented themselves before him and required him to marry them, it was a duty, insamuch as it was a ministerial one, that he was bound to fulfill. He had looked through the civil code of the State, and had been unable to discover any definition of the duties of a minister in respect to marriage. It seemed to him there was no defined law in regard to it in the revised code. After the marriage, and before the funeral of Mr. Richardson, he had asked a responsible party as to the legality of the divorce, and it was stated to him that the divorce was quite correct. He in-quired also of another person whether the divorce had been obtained on more than legal grounds, and it was stated in reply that it was granted not only upon legal, but also upon moral grounds.

It is stated that Jeremiah Smith, the Ulster county roadside murderer, is con-States in a penitonilary in one of the Western States. The person giving this information was arrested by officer Surrine, of Kingston, to whom he told the story. He says that he met Smith, when the latter stated that he intended to commit a crime in order to get incarcerated in on out-of-the way jail so that he could escape the vigilance of his pursuers, who wished to arrest him for the marder. The Spanish guoboats were released

It is said that Allen does not go back on his generous proposition to accommodate any man in the world with a trial inside the ropes, but that he wants time for preliminary arrangements, so that averything can be done decently and in order. The fact is that a prize fight, with its other abominations, has so fight, with its other abominations, has so much plain lying before and after it, that even "the fancy" ought to be well sick of the whole business.—St. Louis Republican.
